

Special anti-aging care – personalised for your skin type.

A targeted, effective wrinkle treatment and skin texture rejuvenation can be optimally achieved through the combination of expertly implemented care treatments and the use of professional products. Your skin care institute can also offer you additional measures for cosmetic treatment of "beauty flaws" such as scar minimisation, reduction of pigmentation and age spots, as well as the treatment of impure or horny skin, e.g.:

- Special peeling methods for skin regeneration and reduction of pigmentation flaws.
- Ultrasound treatments for infiltration of anti-aging agents to compensate for lack of moisture and increase skin strength.
- Massages and application of masks for promoting skin tension and moisture.

Your institute team or dermatologist will be happy to advise you about further aesthetic treatments, e.g. injections or laser treatments for skin rejuvenation.

Use the following symbols for orientation.

We have provided easy to understand symbols so that you can immediately see for which type of care each product is most suitable.

Particularly recommended for:

women

caring facial cleansing

men

day care

best-agers

special care

sensitive eye area

Your skin in the spotlight.

Starting as early as possible, the interaction between consistent home care, treatments from skin care institutes and further dermatological therapy will help you to ward off skin aging effects as best as possible. For more detailed information, please contact your dermatologist practice or skin care institute.

You can also inform yourself about the particularly effective products in the PURE Aesthetico range – the new quality for more mature skin.

stamp

Theme: Anti-aging

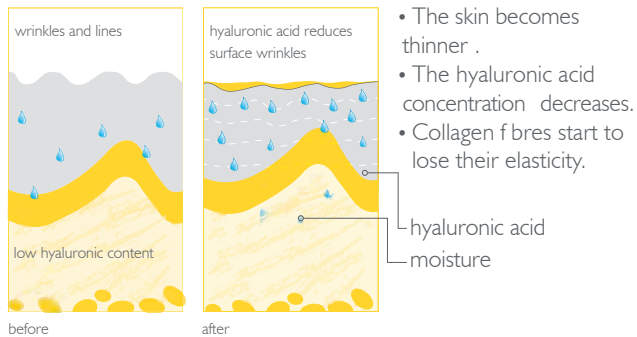

Optimal care for visible results – with the Aesthetico special range.

What happens to your skin after 35?

With increasing age, skin slowly loses its natural tension and regeneration capability. Its ability to store moisture decreases and so it becomes thinner and drier. The elasticity of the skin reduces and the first wrinkles and lines appear. This is a completely natural process that can differ in development according to individual predispositions. Even the severity can differ from person to person. This process can also be accelerated by external factors, e.g. sunshine, smoking and lack of sleep as these increase the level of attack by free radicals on the skin. Lack of or incorrect care can also negatively affect skin texture.

the aging process of the skin

Care tips for more mature skin – Anti-aging.

You can achieve positive effects for your appearance with an effective medical skin care program. The important factors here are moisturising the skin with active agents such as e.g. hyaluronic acid or Aquaxyl, supplying it with valuable lipids such as canola or jojoba oil and promoting collagen regeneration through agents such as Centella Asiatica extract and Matrixyl. Skin regeneration can also be promoted by fruit acids in home care products and anti-age peptides help with fine mimic wrinkles.

Take care of your skin and avoid frequent and intensive sunbathing. Always use additional sun protection products with high UV filter and radical scavenger properties that protect your skin against UV radiation. Effective and modern anti-aging emulsions with vitamins in combination with nutritional supplements round off the skin care program effectively.

gentle cleansing and intensive care

Aesthetico

cleansing milk

Gently clean: This cleansing milk frees facial skin from make-up, dirt and sebum, and is suitable for dry, sensitive skin. It is cooling and moisturising, keeping the skin soft.

Aesthetico

eye cream

Intensively wrinkle-free: This hydrating, perfume-free care product with a novel recipe acts against wrinkles and increases skin elasticity. Recommended for dry, sensitive eye areas.

Aesthetico

juvenation concentrate

Active against mimic wrinkles: This care concentrate with anti-age peptides is a highly effective fluid against mimic wrinkles and the ideal supplementary treatment for aesthetic procedures.

Aesthetico

fruit complex plus C

A tingling experience: This modern fruit acid formulation with vitamin C for a smoothing effect and protection against premature loss of elasticity is ideal for preparing the skin for chemical peelings.

sun protection and regeneration

Aesthetico

external complex

Vitamin boost from the outside: This light anti-aging emulsion protects areas subject to UV attack from environmental damage with the highly effective combination of vitamins A, C and E.

Aesthetico

internal complex

Anti-aging from the inside: These nutritional supplement capsules strengthen protection against free radicals with its combination of vitamins C and E, lycopene and OPC in red grape seed extracts.

Aesthetico

rich & SPF

Enjoy the summer: This day care cream for dry and sensitive facial skin treats the skin with panthenol and vitamin E. It provides the skin with moisture and protects it against sunlight.

Aesthetico

suncare sensitive SPF 30

Secure UV protection: This intensive sunprotect spray with isoflavones is suitable for sun-sensitive skin.

Aesthetico

sun skin protect

For sun-stressed skin: A cooling fluid with a cell protection complex containing isoflavones and ectoine, which supports skin repair functions and improves elasticity.